

Summer School of Style

Strategic Shopping lesson - Worksheet

The purpose of this exercise is to turn your shopping habits into a prestigious style. To make you ultra-selective, armed with self-knowledge and see your style as well as your other matters from different perspective.

What propelled me to create this simple yet eye-opening exercise was my second client I have ever worked with. She had about $3.200 'stored' in a pile of jeans she barely wore. When I told her that she could have paid for a family vacation or for the entire semester of her study instead, she realized that her useless pile of fancy (unworn) jeans will never pay her dividends.

After you watch the lesson, fill in this table to answer the 'million dollar question' that will save you thousands upon thousands on clothing in the upcoming years. Or better yet, make you see places and accumulate experiences that will make your life and the life of your loved ones so much richer, while remaining the epitome of style in a 500 kms diameter.

What could I have instead?

	Another clothing item	Personal item	Household item	Experience/Trip	Education
$50
$100
$500
$1.000
$5.000
$10.000
$20.000					